

Clarity App has been created for education and informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for professional medical care, and its use is limited to promote awareness and early detection of scoliosis or other spinal imbalances. As such, we are not responsible, nor liable for any course of treatment that you decide to take, or not take based on the information provided from this screening tool.

Regardless of the information provided by this application, Clarity App always recommends that you consult a licensed medical professional who is certified and expert in the evaluation and treatment of scoliosis and spinal imbalances if you have any concerns.

Your privacy is very important. All data remains self contained within the Clarity App application. We do not share your information with any third party. Should you choose to contact a medical provider at the end of this application, you are initiating that contact either via digital (email) transmission of the results, or via phone communication; none of your responses to questions in this screening tool are saved or shared. Clarity App does not endorse specific providers or the medical advice they may or may not provide. By continuing to use the Clarity App, you agree to our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use.
